A Western Editor, in acknowledging the gift of a peck of onions from a sub-scriber, says: "It is such kindness as this that brings tears to our eyes."

Oe a Yankee's telling an Irishman that he ought to have his ears cut, as they were too long for a man, he replied, and you 136 poisonings, 76 drownings, 26 convicts should have yours lengthened, as they are rightly and 62 wrongely sentenced, 80 conto short for an ass.

A letter was received at the New York Post Office a short time since, with the address, to the biggest fool in New York, acy, and 259 of adultery. Such is life on One of the clerks opened it, and found— the stage. Such is the 'School of Morals Thou art the man. An Irish lover remarked that "it's a very

"Well, if I was to hire a man it would be one that could lift well -a strong, wiry fellow; one for instance, that could should er a sack of coffee like that yonder, and carry it across the store and never lay it

"There, new, captain," said our countryman, "that's just me, What will you give a man that can suit you?"

"I tell you," said the merchant, "if you will shoulder that sack of coffee, and carry it across the store twice and never lay it down. I will hire you for a year at $100

"Done," said the stranger; and by this time every clerk in the store had gathered around and were waiting to join in the laugh against the man, who, walking to the longs." perfect case, as it was not extremely heastore, went quietly to a large hook which was fastened to the wall, and hanging the sack upon it, turned to the merchant and

"There, now; it may hang there till doomsday; I shan't never lay it down. What shall I go about, mister! Just give me plenty to do and $100 per month, and it's all right."

The clerks broke into a laugh, but it was out of the other side of their mouths; and the merchant, discomfited, yet satisfied, kept to his agreement, and to-day the green countryman is the senior partner in the firm and worth half a million of

From the RUBAL NEW TORESS. WHISTLE AND HOE.

There's a boy just over the garden fence,
Who is whistling all through the livelong day,
And his work is not just a mere pretence,
For you see the weeds he has cut away. Whistle and hoe,

Not a word of bemoaning his task I hear,
He has scarcely time for a growl, I know,
For his whistle sounds so merry and clear,
He must find some pleasure in every row.

Whiatle and hoe, Sing as you go, Shorten the row

RECIPES.

RESTORING COLOR. - When color on fabric has been accidentally or otherwise destroyed by seid, ammonia is applied to neutralize the same, after which an application of chloroofrm will in almost all cases restore the original color. The application of ammonia is common, but that of chloroform is but little known.

SPONGE CARE. - 1 teacup of flour, 1 of sugar, 8 eggs; beat the whites and yolks separate; teaspoon soda, 1 of cream tartar.

To PAINT A KITCHEN FLOOR .- Paint mixed in the usual manner is never satisfactory. THE DRAMA

The drama, so-called in New York, is ertainly not more chaste than it is in Paris. We have the statistics of the characters and scenes in the pieces written for the Parisian stage by one living author, and they include 93 abductions, 22 fratricides, 8 parricides, 145 foundlings, 116 children stolen, and 123 changelings; 212 forged wills, 213 roberies of note cases, 193 duels with awords 168 with pistols, 8 with knives, and 10 with hatchets; 13 cases of aron, and 123 of arson accompanied by murder rightly and 62 wrongely sentenced, 80 convicts set at liberty, and 35 escaped from prison; 77 cases of asphyxiation, 115 escapes from violent death, 206 cases of luntaught in the modern theatre.

We are glad to see that the attempt made in Cincinnati to authorize by law A Portland paper asserts that a man rethe licensing of houses of prostitution, and cently walked into the office of the Zion's to protect those who frequent them against the natural consequences of their beastly and sinful courses, has proved a failure. Such a law was passed some time since in St. Louis, and in the same interest a bill was reported in the Common Council of Cincinnati, and but for the uprising of the moral portion of the community, including the most respectable portion of the medi-cal profession, would have been passed, Meetings were held to protest against the measure, and remonstrances, signed by thousands of ladies, of business men and of citizens generally, were laid before the Com mon Council.

In the presence of a large delegation of the solid men of the city the subject was discussed for several hours, and when the vote was taken, seven voted in favor and fifteen against the proposal. The Herald and Presbyter which has a full account of the proceedings in the case, says:

"The importance of this victory cannot well be over estimated. St. Louis, had set the example. Had Cincinnati followed, Chicago would perhaps have tallen into line, and the polluting tide might have awept over all the cities of the land. But we have erected a strong break-water. It will now be easier for St. Louis to repeal her iniquitous ordinance, which, we un-derstand she is making hopeful efforts to do, and this whole business will be rel-

THE ADVANTAGES OF UNIVERSAL

SUFFRAGE. The first, and in our judgment, the best argument for universal suffrage is that it does in some degree recognize the dignity of manhood, the existence of citizenship, spart altogether from adventitious circum stances, such as wealth, education or political intelligence; that it is, in fact, universal, and not partial, an idea necessarily yery strange in countries, which have es-tablished the conscription. If a man is forced to die for his country, he is surdy entitled, the Frenchmen say, to vote as to the merit or demerit of the policy he is to die for. The consequences of his vote have little to do with the matter. He has a right telt, as he has to keep living, though his death might be a public sevantage. The next gain from such a suffrage is the enormous force which a mass vote adds to the executive, a force absolutely needful in emergencies so great that to ob-tain safety the population must assent, at least by acquiescence, in the great measure to be proposed Nothing, for instance, could save Prussia in certain contingencies except the conviction, drilled into her peo-ple by two centuries of danger, that every man must become an effective soldier. FOR BRAIDING AND EMBROIDERY. There is a mass vote down in Prussia to that effect in every serious contingency, and, irregularly or silently as it is taken, it is the very foundation of the recent imperial policy. Then universal suffrage un-doubtedly throws the responsibility of all acts upon the people who commit them, and compels them to feel that law is not a hostile agency, but one which they them-selves have put upon themselves, and are therefore bound to upheld. There cannot be a doubt, for example, that the easy working of the Code Napoleon in France, the total absence of any party which even hopes to overthrow it, is due to its acceptance by the people in so unanimous a mapner as to amount to a direct assent, which, indeed has been three times more or less directly registered at the polls by the plebisedes for Napoleon, who, it was certain would not touch the Code. In other words, it is certain that universal suffrage does gratify the natural desire for the hoporable position of full citizen, and does
